HONGKONG, OCTOBER 8th, 1908.

Events in Eastern Europe have moved with startling rapidity during the past few months. While the rest of Europe has been at peace that little corner of the Continent has been reeking with blood. Tribal wars, racial conflicts, and religious strife seemed to absorb the energies of the various ethnological elements to be found there, and a chronic state of unrest prevailed, for which it was thought that the "unspeakable Turk" was somehow to blame. Turkey having entered on a régime of reform, the European powers were willing that nothing should be allowed to interfere with her working out her own salvation. Within the past few days a new situation has arisen which demands their action. Had it occurred a few years earlier, it might have brought about a European war, but, though such a dire contingency is not at all likely, the existing state of affairs cannot be viewed with unconcern.

Bulgaria is the scene of the present trouble. This principally created by the Berlin Treaty of 1878, was constituted an autonomous and tributary State under the suzerainty of the Sultan of Turkey. Now it has seized the occasion of a quarrel with Turkey over the control of the Oriental Railway as a fitting opportunity to declare its independence, following this up by proclaiming Prince FERDINAND Tsar of Bulgaria. Unfortunately this piece of national heroics is not a matter which merely concerns the suzerain and the subject States. The Powers who were signatories to the Berlin Treaty were anxious to bring peace to the troubled land over which the Turk held sway, and having made what seemed an excellent arrangement to secure the end in view, they must also act in the interests of Turkey when the occasion demands. The claims of the Bulgarians may be quite legitimate. They may represent a laddable sentiment of patriotism. But the question for the Powers is not whether Bulgarian national aspirations should be granted or should not, but whether the integrity of the Ottoman Empire is to be preserved.

Formerly little sympathy would have been expressed in Europe for Turkey, but opinion regarding that country has undergone a change since the peaceful revolution of two months ago. Since then hopes have been expressed that the prospect of a settlement of the Macedonian question was less remote than before, and it was also expected that the warring elements in various parts of the Empire would cease their strife. Bulgaria's present action is not calculated to aid that peaceful solution. Her attitude is certainly belligerent. She seems determined to assert her independence and as her army is well trained, and her defences are in good order, it is not unfair to conclude that this step has been contemplated for some time. On the other hand Turkey is not apparently ready for war. Our telegram states that she will merely protest, while Reuter adds that Germany has advised her not to resort to force. At any rate war between the two States does not seem imminent.

In the interests of Europe, in the interests of peace, it is politic to allow the advent of another small nation? Turkish suzerainty may be irksome. So might be that of Russia or Austria. Poland, a much larger country, could not stand alone. Neither could the other small countries of Roumania, Serbia, and Montenegro were their independence not assured by the Powers of Europe. Norway, which recently entered on a separate existence, has her integrity guaranteed by other nations. Even such long established kingdoms as Holland and Denmark need a similar protection. Belgium and Switzerland also owe their independence to the goodwill of the other Powers. Bearing these facts in mind, what conclusion is to be drawn? Surely none other than that political exigencies alone are responsible for the separate existence of these peoples. The tendency of the age is towards amalgamation or federation. The history of the leading nations of the world is a tale of gradual absorption. We know our own "rough island story." We know how many different nationalities have been welded together to build up the British Empire. France represents a union of former kingdoms and duchies. Still more so do Austria-Hungary and Germany, two illustrations of a survival of the fittest system. Russia has grown by a similar process of amalgamation. Italy only stepped into the front rank of European powers when the various kingdoms and principalities in the peninsula were merged. Neither did Spain become a power until several kingdoms were united under the sway of her sovereign. It has been declared that the day of small nations is passed. If evolution tells us anything, it is that progress and development have only been possible by co-operation, the union of men, and the interdependence of the smaller nations will become larger. Therefore, it seems unfortunate that another small nation should appear to add to the embroglio already existing in the Near East. It only postpones the final settlement of the issue when these petty kingdoms and principalities will be absorbed by one or other of the Powers which surround them. Austria seeking to annex Bosnia points the way others will follow. The only question is as to time.

There were 17,000 Chinese employed in the Witwatersrand mines, in the Transvaal at the end of August.

For stealing the brass bushes of the wheels of six rickshaws a coolie was yesterday sentenced by Mr. Kemp at the Magistracy to three months imprisonment.

The Russian Ministry of Marine has decided to build ten gunboats and ten patrol-boats for the river Amur and establish a system of wireless telegraphy on the river.

Sentence of four months imprisonment was passed upon an amah, who pleaded guilty before Mr. Kemp at the Magistracy to breaking open a lock fast drawer in the house of her mistress, a Chinese lady, and stealing therefrom $540 and a brooch.

A Japanese paper states that the Chinese Government contemplates approaching the British Government on the subject of the retrocession of Weihaiwei. The Government of China, it is said, would like to again have Weihaiwei as the base for her Northern squadron.

A telegram to the American Consulate from the Manila Observatory, yesterday, reported a typhoon in the Pacific Ocean, about half way between the Carolines and the Philippines.

A pardon has been granted to Toyotaro (alias Bokonosake) Koyama, who attempted to shoot the late Li Hung-chang in Shimonoeki in 1895.

It is reported that, at a meeting of the Japanese Cabinet on the 22nd ult., it was resolved to prohibit the participation at race meetings on the ground that it is detrimental to public morals.

Another solicitor and proctor will be shortly enrolled as a member of the Hongkong bar. Mr. Leo d'Almada e Castro, articled clerk to Mr. P. W. Goldring, has successfully passed his final examination, and will be admitted in due course.

The programme of the fifth meeting of the Hongkong Gymkhana Club, which takes place on Saturday, shows 15 entries for the Five Furlong Flat Race Handicap; 7 for the Gymkhana Stakes; 3 for the Ladies' Nomination Hunt Sally Race; 9 for the Three-Quarters of a Mile Flat Race; 12 for the Time Race, and 13 for the One Mile and a Quarter Flat Race. Given fine weather, good sport should be witnessed on Saturday afternoon.

The Y.M.C.A. Parliament commenced its session on Tuesday evening and the new Premier, Captain Brown, after announcing his Cabinet, gave a brief synopsis of his policy which included measures to control the fisheries, impose taxes on incomes and dividends of absentee shareholders; provide old age pensions; institute a court of arbitration to deal with boycotts; and several other important subjects. Mr. Sykes was elected speaker and the duties of clerk of the house were undertaken by Mr. Barlow.

Two Japanese agricultural experts are now in Burma. They have been commissioned to visit both India and Burma. The principal object of the tour is to ascertain first of all whether Japan can safely depend on regular supplies of paddy and white rice from India and Burma in case of crop failures or famine or other adverse agricultural conditions in Japan; and secondly, to study the system of agricultural practices, examine the yield of the various important crops and to see whether any avenues exist for a larger import and export trade.

The current issue of Church Notes states:—It is with feelings of sincere thankfulness that we announce the appointment of the Rev. Arthur Buckingham Thornhill, M.A., Hertford College, Oxford, as Assistant Chaplain of St. John's Cathedral. Mr. Thornhill was ordained in 1906 for the curacy of St. Philip, Liverpool, a parish of which Bishop Landor was Vicar from 1896 to 1905. The Bishop writes that Mr. Thornhill has applied to be released from his curacy in Liverpool and he hopes to arrive in Hongkong, via Canada, in time to begin work on January 1st, 1909.

The "Japan Herald" quotes Japanese papers as reporting the discovery of rich coal mines at Shimomachi-ami, Ono, district in Fukuoka prefecture. According to Mr. Tanaka, who is in charge of the experimental boring, the seams number fifteen and cover about 2,500,000 tons, each seam being from six to twelve feet deep. The output resembles in quality the coal mined at Takashima and Kanran, while it compares very favorably with Cardiff coal on account of its cleanness. The Kuroyama river is available for transporting the coal output to Morita station on the Kokuriku line or to the harbour of Mikuni. It is believed that the coal mine is one of the most valuable to be found in Japan.

Mr. Wood, at the Magistracy, yesterday, ordered a native to pay a fine of $25 for harbouring a woman. The woman's husband, suspecting her frequent absences on the plea that she was visiting his mother, went to his mother's house. Not finding his wife there he went to the place he suspected and found her occupying a bedroom with another man. The defendant's story was that he met the woman on the Praya as she was about to throw herself into the harbour. He heard her tale of woe and tried to comfort her, and as she declared she needed a man to look after her he took a room where they lived together.

Writing on Indo-China in the Figaro, M. Le Pononville says mandarin elected by the sovereign are intensely disliked, while the minor mandarins or headmen elected by the people are very popular. The mistake made by the French was in using the former and neglecting the latter in the administration of the country. Capricious organisation of direct taxes and absence of official registers enabled the mandarins to extort in such wholesale fashion that the fiscal burdens were really twenty per cent. higher than the legal taxes, and the natives were now petitioning the Government not for remission of the legal taxes but protection against extortion. In these petitions preference is expressed for French officials.

ROUND-THE-WORLD TOURIST ROBBED ON BOARD SHIP.

Zakir Khan, a wealthy Indian nobleman, who is making a tour of the world, arrived in Singapore last week by the Apurva liner Japan and reported to the police that, on September 28, while en route from Hongkong to Singapore, his bags were cut open and a gold watch, which he bought in America for $25 (U.S. currency), an overcoat made by Messrs. Hope Brothers, of London, 10 coverings, a number of rupee notes and securities valued at several thousand rupees were stolen. There is no clue to the thief, but it seems as though it might be possible to catch him, as the overcoat is too bulky an article to be concealed easily. It is considered unfortunate that the passenger came ashore before the police were informed of the theft.

THE BALKANS.

LONDON, October 5th.

There is much speculation as to the nature of Emperor Francis Joseph's letter. The most trustworthy accounts assert that it reviews the whole situation in the Near East, and deals with the necessity for a change in the relations of the Monarchy with Bosnia and Herzegovina; the occupation of which is regarded as definite, assurances being given that the change contemplated will not transgress the limits of the treaty of Berlin.

The British newspapers regard the situation with the gravest misgivings, which are increased by renewed rumours that the proclamation of Bulgaria's independence is most imminent. There is great excitement also in Servia at the threatened turn of events.

LATER.

Bulgaria was to-day proclaimed an independent Kingdom at the ancient capital of Tirnova.

The gravity of the situation in the Near East is universally recognised.

The London newspapers are unanimous in condemning the high-handed action of Bulgaria, and the manifest intention of Austria to annex the provinces of Bosnia and Herzegovina, both in defiance of the treaty of Berlin. It is uncertain yet how the other Powers view their proceedings, but the opinion prevails that a European Conference is inevitable.

Count Mensdorff, Austrian Ambassador in London, is taking the Emperor's letter to Balmoral where His Majesty King Edward is now in residence.

Sir Edward Grey, Minister of Foreign Affairs, returned to London last night, and had a long conference with the Turkish and Italian Ambassadors.

Reuter is officially informed that Great Britain will not consent to any alteration in the treaty of Berlin without the consent of the signatories thereto, and will decline to recognize what has been done, or any other infraction of its provisions, until all the signatories have been consulted.

It is authoritatively stated in Berlin that Germany's reply to the letter of the Emperor Francis Joseph is a promise to support Austria in the annexation of Bosnia which she regards as separate from the Bulgarian crisis, and should Turkey consult the Powers on the advisability of warning Bulgaria over the railway dispute, Germany will not advise such a course, as she considers the Turkish army unprepared for war, whereas the Bulgarian army is fit and ready.

THE CANADIAN PACIFIC AND RAILWAY FREIGHTS.

New York, September 30th.

Mr. Skinner, the General Freight Manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway, has issued a public statement that his Company will, on November 1st, publish a schedule of existing freight rates, showing the overhead proportion of all through rates, in compliance with the orders of the Inter-State Commission of the United States.

THE WAIWUPU.

The following is a list of matters that are said to be receiving the earnest attention of the members of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs:—(1) To discuss the unfinished Tariff treaties with Siam; (2) To reconsider the economies in vogue with reference to the receiving of Foreign Envoys; (3) To question of decorations for Consular General and Consul; (4) The appointment of Ministers who have returned from abroad; (5) The duties, salary and powers of the newly created post of Commissioner of International Relations; (6) The Manchurian Treaty with Russia; (7) The increase of the salaries of representatives abroad; and, (8) The question of making the posts of Minister, Secretary of Legation and Consul substantive ones like other official appointments. —N.C. Mr. Lloyd George considers golf good for statesmen. On which a contemporary remarks that many of the most cutting and incisive things said on the floor of the House were originally addressed to a ball in a bunker.

SUPREME COURT.

Wednesday, October 7th.

IN SUMMARY JURISDICTION.

BEFORE MR. H. H. J. GOMPERTZ (ACTING POUNCE JUDGE).

CLAIM FOR WORK DONE.

Chan Tim, trading as the Chan Tim Kee, sued Lo Fuk, trading as the Lo Fuk Kee, to recover $262.92 for work done.

Mr. G. E. Morrell (of Messrs. Goldring, Barlow and Morrell) appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Otto Kong Sing for the defendant.

Mr. Morrell, in opening, stated that both plaintiff and defendant were boiler makers, and on June 3rd, defendant engaged the plaintiff under a verbal agreement to do certain riveting. Workmen were engaged on June 5th, and continued work until the 11th.

His Lordship—The claim is not admitted? Mr. Kong Sing—No, we say there is no contract.

Mr. Morrell, continuing, said the agreement was that the defendant was to pay the plaintiff every Saturday. After a certain portion of the work had been done, and the defendant did not pay up, plaintiff wanted to know the reason why. Defendant said he had no money, so plaintiff stopped work. He took defendant to the works to see what had been done, and the defendant agreed as to the amount due.

The total amount due for work done was $457.92, but there had been paid on various dates to the plaintiff a sum amounting to $225, which left the balance for which his client was suing.

After hearing evidence, his Lordship gave judgment for plaintiff with costs.

BIRTH OF A BOURBON PRINCE.

The Princess Louise Orleans, wife of the Infante Carlos, gave birth to a son, at the Castle of Antillana, Madrid, on the 6th ult.

Dr. Cardenas, Court physician, was in attendance on Princess Louise.

Princess Louise was married to Prince Charles of Bourbon at Wood Norton, the Worcestershire home of her brother, the Duke of Orleans, last November, amid scenes of splendour such as have seldom been witnessed at an English country house.

OPIUM-SMOKING AT TOULON.

The French Government, says the Paris correspondent of the Times, has at last decided to take definitive action against the practice of opium-smoking at Toulon. The difficulty is to apply the law of 1845 against the sale and purchase of poisonous substances. A Decree based upon this law has been drawn up and will be issued very shortly. Meanwhile, the naval and police authorities at Toulon are making such investigations as they can in the quarters, but owing to the ease with which the practice of opium-smoking can be concealed, their task is not easy. The revelations made in the case of the traitor Ullmo, who was a confirmed opium-smoker, have drawn special attention to the prevalence of this pernicious habit, and every possible means is to be taken to suppress it.

VICTORIA RECREATION CLUB.

An extraordinary meeting of the V.R.C. was held at the Club House last night. Mr. A. Rodger presided, and there were also present Messrs. F. Lammert (secretary) M. McIvor L. Lammert, S. Seth, E. Humphreys, T. Meek (committees) and a fair attendance of members.

After a suggested improvement to one of the rules had been adopted, The Chairman said the only point members had to consider was the length of the swimming bath and the scheme of finance.

Mr. Meek said the bone of contention was the length of the bath. The ground at the Club's disposal was 110 feet long, and if they made a bath of 75 feet it would be no make shift. The principal baths at home were 75 feet long; that meant swimming the baths four times for 100 yards. A 100 foot bath would contain 750 tons of water. Water polo could be played in a 75 foot bath, and the game would be equally fair to both sides. If a 100 foot bath were built there would be little room to start even a team race, let alone running headers, and so on.

Mr. Meek proposed that a 75 foot bath be built, and Mr. C. Humphreys seconded.

An amendment was proposed by Mr. F. Humphreys, who suggested that the length of the bath should be 100 feet.

This was seconded by Mr. Silva Netto.

On being put to the vote Mr. Meek's proposal was carried.

Mr. Meek, proposed and Mr. Silva Netto seconded that 800 debenture shares should be issued at 6 per cent. This was agreed to.

This concluded the business.

THE SOUVENIR CRAZE.

Pleasant as no doubt are the memories left behind by the American fleet at their different ports of call in the Pacific, it appears from Reuter's message that at Sydney more mementoes were left than was intended. The battleship "Connecticut" missed a large quantity of cutlery. This is a blunt statement of apparent fact; but it is pleasant to see that the officers of the "Connecticut" have taken the trouble to make a list of the mementoes which were left for the local people. The officers kindly suggested that the cutlery was taken with the loss of the ship. This is an idiosyncrasy of appetite, in point of fact, says a London contemporary, that it is not unfair to believe is widely developed among Americans themselves.

It was stated at the time that the cutter who provided the banquet given to the German Crown Prince on his visit to New York suffered a heavy loss owing to this ceremonial appetite on the part of those assembled, and that when New York was entertained on the battleship of another Power the officers found that the buttons on the uniforms in their cabins had been eaten.

The desire to carry away a memento of a pleasant visit is, after all, a pleasing and a natural characteristic of humanity; the trouble is to keep it within nice limits. At St. Petersburg the difficulty has been ably solved by enclosing the historic stones which mark the tree where the arrow glanced and killed William Rufus has been stoutly cased in iron. It is scarcely possible for hosts at banquets to obtain the silver and cutlery to the table; but now this form of souvenir hunting is becoming general, a different safeguard might be adopted. Special spoons of tin might be provided, neatly inscribed, "You may take this spoon."

THE TEAK FORESTS IN NORTHERN SIAM.

THE PRACTICE OF STEALING ELEPHANTS.

The British Consul at Chiangmai (Mr. Gorton) in his annual report says still remains the principal industry of the district and provides practically the only employment for Europeans in the North of Siam. The teak forests of the Salween amounted to 9,440 cubic tons valued at $23,534, being 2,038 cubic tons less than in 1906, while the value shows a decrease of $15,068 as compared with the 1906 deliveries and $1,006 less than the average deliveries for the past five years.

The floating season for the Monashee is a good one and the deliveries at Paknampho stood one and a half times over those in 1906, whereas the Salween floating season does not appear to have been so successful. The following are the returns of deliveries at the duty station at Paknampho for the Siamese year April 1, 1907, to March 31, 1908: Me Ping river 69,251 logs, Me Yom river 39,147 logs, being a total of 108,398 logs. This is 8,578 logs less than the five-yearly average, but exceeded 1906 deliveries by 22,332 logs.

The work of the teak companies still continues to be hampered by repeated elephant thefts. According to the only figures at present available, the two chief British teak firms lost 43 elephants during the period April, 1907, to March, 1908. Of this number 27 elephants were stolen in the actual province of Chiangmai and 9 in the Salween district. Against these losses 22 elephants have been recovered, 15 elephants in the actual province of Chiangmai, 4 in the Salween district. The efforts of the lower authorities on the Burma and Karenni frontier. When it is considered that a full grown working elephant now costs some Rs. 4,500 to Rs. 6,000 it will be seen that the theft of even one elephant entails no inconsiderable loss and inconvenience. It is to be hoped that the Elephant Track Law, which, though contemplated, has not yet come into force, will to some extent mitigate this evil.
